Evacuation

In some emergency situations it may become necessary to leave your home or business and move to a safer location.

What To Do When You Must Evacuate:

Vacate your home when advised – ignoring a warning may jeopardize your safety and safety of others.

Put on clothing appropriate for the anticipated weather.

If instructed to do so, shut off your water, gas and electricity.

Ensure you take all medications required to sustain your health. Other personal items will depend on time and transportation.

Listen to the radio (battery operated) for Reception Centre Locations and designated Travel Routes.

Take your emergency supply kit and lock your home.

NOTIFY YOUR FAMILY CONTACT REGARDING YOUR SITUATION. Do not use the phone again unless it is a life-threatening emergency.

Make arrangements for pets or ask officials for assistance.

Register at the Reception Center so that you can be contacted and reunited with your family.
