

Home-Based Business (Major) Conditional Use (DCU “B”) Application Form

Use this application if you want to run a business from your home and your property is zoned as residential. Some home-based businesses need special approval to make sure they fit with the neighbourhood and follow zoning rules. This application helps you request approval through the conditional use process.

What is a home-based business?

The Zoning By-law regulates home-based businesses by ensuring the character of a residential area is not impacted by noise, traffic or other nuisances associated with a commercial enterprise.

A home-based business may be a full-time, part-time or even an occasional venture. Generally, if your business mail comes to your home and/or administrative duties are conducted from your home, you require a home-based business permit (winnipeg.ca/HomeBasedBusinessPermit). Many types of home-based businesses, such as office facilities, are permitted under the Zoning By-law and a home-based business permit is issued to establish the use.

A home-based business that provides a personal service on the premises to serve customers (e.g. beauty salon, pet grooming, repair service, counselling services, etc.) and/or includes a maximum of two non-resident employees requires a conditional use application in addition to the home-based business permit. The conditional use must be granted without appeals before the home-based business permit can be issued to establish the use.

What is a conditional use?

A conditional use means a building or land use that may be unique in its characteristics or operation, which could have an impact on adjoining properties. A conditional use is a use of land listed as “conditional” under the use tables in the Zoning By-law.

How long does the conditional use process take?

The length of time to process depends on the complexity of the application proposal and the completeness of the required documentation and information (refer to the checklist under “Application Submission Requirements”). In general, the process takes approximately six to eight weeks from the date of the application submission to complete. Complicated applications may take longer.

What happens during the conditional use process?

Once the application is submitted to a Zoning Development Officer and the applicable fees have been paid, the file is circulated to the Development Planning Officer. The Development Planning Officer will review the application and prepare a report to support the conditional use with conditions, request changes in order to approve the conditional use, or reject the conditional use altogether.

The criteria to approve a conditional use application are based on Subsection 247(3) of The City of Winnipeg Charter, which includes the following:

- (a) Is consistent with Plan Winnipeg and any applicable secondary plan
- (b) Does not create a substantial adverse effect on the amenities, use, safety and convenience of the adjoining property and adjacent area, including an area separated from the property by a street or waterway
- (c) Is the minimum modification of a zoning by-law required to relieve the injurious effect of the zoning by-law on the applicant’s property
- (d) Is compatible with the area in which the property to be affected is situated.

In the letter of intent, please explain how each criterion is met. This is an opportunity to address all issues and reduce the possibility of an important factor being overlooked.

If the Development Planning Officer approves the conditional use, the variance clerk will create the public notices and will contact the applicant to pick up the notices from Zoning & Permits office. The applicant must post the notices on the subject property for a period of 14 days in a visible location facing the street(s) and/or lane(s). The applicant is responsible for maintaining the notices during the required 14-day posting period (as per Subsection 118 of The City of Winnipeg Charter). The public notices inform the neighbourhood of the purpose of the conditional use and any conditions that are deemed necessary for approval. Should the notices be removed or damaged during the posting period, the applicant must contact the Zoning & Permits office for replacement notices.

What if the Development Planning Officer supports the conditional use, but the application is appealed by neighbours?

- Any neighbouring property owner(s) who oppose the conditional use granted by the order may appeal the decision by submitting a written notice to the City Clerk's Department prior to the end of the 14-day posting period as specified on the public notice
- The applicant shall be notified by registered mail of any appeals
- If there are appeals, the property is posted for a second 14-day period informing the neighbourhood of the appeal hearing date. The matter is heard before the Appeal Committee at City Hall, 510 Main Street.
- The Appeal Committee may dismiss the appeal (allow the original conditional use order to be confirmed), grant the appeal (dismiss the original order), or allow the appeal in part placing conditions on an Appeal Order
- If the original order is dismissed (the conditional use is rejected), the applicant cannot re-apply for the same conditional use within one year from the date of the Appeal Order and a building or development permit cannot be issued for the proposed work

What if the Development Planning Officer rejects the conditional use, but the application is appealed by the applicant?

Please note: The Development Planning Officer will contact the applicant prior to formally rejecting a conditional use application. The applicant may appeal a reject order as per the procedure below:

- If the Director of the Planning Property and Development Department (or designate) rejects the conditional use application, the applicant shall be notified of the decision by registered mail
- The applicant may appeal the rejected order by submitting a written notice to the City Clerk's Department prior to the conclusion of the appeal period as specified on the conditional use order
- The subject property is posted for a 14-day period informing the neighbourhood of the appeal and hearing date. The matter is heard before the Appeal Committee at City Hall, 510 Main Street.
- The Appeal Committee may dismiss the appeal (allow the rejected order to be confirmed) or grant the appeal (dismiss the rejected order)
- If the appeal is dismissed (the conditional use is rejected), the applicant cannot re-apply for the same conditional use within one year from the date of the Appeal Order and a building or development permit cannot be issued for the proposed work
